With over 6,000 products in stock from the fields of drilling, milling, countersinking and clamping, the new MAPAL online shop is now available for customers from Germany and Austria. With the highly integrated and intuitive shop.mapal.com platform, users benefit from short delivery times, free delivery and state-of-the-art shop functions such as reordering, saving favorites and intuitive filters. After a one-time registration, existing customers can access stock levels as well as individual prices and conditions. There is also an uncomplicated registration process for new customers.

In addition to purchasing, the MAPAL shop can also be used for information and downloading. A large number of technical data and drawings as well as material suitability and application information are available for the products. "We are very pleased that we can offer our customers, initially in Germany and Austria, real added value with the new online shop,"
